What, Why?

It is important that you know exactly what we do with the personal information you and others make available to us, why we collect it and what it means for you. Personal data means any information relating to an identified or identifiable individual. Examples of personal data include: name, email address, phone number or personal account number. We may obtain and process different types of personal data relating to you in the situations described below.

Where applicable, we indicate whether and why you must provide us with your personal data, as well as the consequences of failing to do so. If you do not provide personal data when requested, you may not be able to benefit from using the Card services if that information is necessary to provide you with the service or if we are legally required to collect such data.

We will not subject you to a decision based on automated processing that produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you, unless you explicitly consented to the processing, the processing is necessary for entering into, or performance of a contract between you and BANCIBO, or when we are legally required to use your personal data in this way, for example to prevent fraud.

This document outlines the BANCIBO approach to Data Privacy to fulfil our obligations under the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) 2018, as implemented on the 25th of May 2018. We were delighted to welcome the advent of GDPR, as it provided BANCIBO with a further an opportunity to reassure our customers of the importance we place on keeping your personal data secure, and of the strict guidelines we apply to its use.

This Privacy Policy only applies to personal data that we process in relation to your BANCIBO supported MasterCard and the related account (the "Card") which you have signed up to under the general terms and conditions at bancibo.cz or a partner's website (the "Site").

Information that we collect when you visit the Site

Our Site uses cookies, which are small files placed on your internet browser when you visit the Site. We use cookies in order to offer you a more tailored experience in the future, by understanding and remembering your particular browsing preferences.

Where we use cookies on the Site, you may block these at any time. To do so, you can activate the setting on your browser that allows you to refuse the setting of all or some cookies. However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies), you may not be able to access all or parts of the Site or to use all the functionality provided through the Site.

The personal data we would like to collect from you is:

- First Name and Surname (with title);
- Date of birth;
- Email;
- Proof of address documents;
- ID Documents;
- Address;
- Gender;
- Bank Account details;

Consent

By consenting to this privacy notice you are giving us permission to process your personal data specifically for the purposes identified above. Consent is required for BANCIBO to process personal data, but it must be explicitly given. Where we are asking you for sensitive personal data, we will always tell you why and how the information will be used.

Consent for Children Under 16

If you are giving consent on behalf of a child under sixteen (16) years of age then please be aware that Children need specific protection with regard to their personal data, as they may be less aware of the risks, consequences and safeguards concerned, and also of their rights in relation to the processing of personal data for the purposes of using these services. By consenting to this privacy notice, on behalf of a minor, you are giving permission for their data to be used for the purposes described above.

Withdrawal of Consent Conditions

You may withdraw consent from direct marketing at any time by contacting our Data Protection Officer. Please note, where you have consented to your data being used for carrying out financial transactions, then the right to withdraw consent does not exist. As a payment service provider, BANCIBO is obliged to retain data concerning financial transactions for 5 years in accordance with national law for the purpose of preventing, detecting and investigating, possible money laundering or terrorist financing.

Similarly, if we have collected and processed your personal data with your consent, then you can withdraw your consent at any time and free of charge. Withdrawing your consent will not affect the lawfulness of any processing we conducted prior to your withdrawal, nor will it affect processing of your personal data conducted in reliance on lawful processing grounds other than consent.

How we share your personal data

We do not share or otherwise disclose personal data we collect about you, except as described in this Privacy Policy or as disclosed to you at the time of data collection.

International Data Transfers & Third-Party Disclosures

BANCIBO shares certain personal information with PCSIL, who is a key supplier of the BANCIBO service provided to you. This information includes:

- registration information and your contact details BANCIBO receives when you register for a Card and account so that your identity can be verified;
- your transaction history; and
- information we collect about how you use and manage your Card and account.

BANCIBO shares that information with PCSIL so that they can provide their services to BANCIBO which in turn provides its services to you, as well as deal with any queries or problems you have in relation to your Card or account, help prevent or detect fraud, record any suspicious or fraudulent behaviour or our suspicions about false or inaccurate information.

Furthermore, we may also share your personal data with:

- Other PCSIL or BANCIBO group companies: to provide you with our services.
- Card manufacturers: to be able to provide you with an actual physical card.
- Shipping companies: to send you the Card.

- Credit-checking agencies or fraud prevention agencies and other organisations: to check all personal information given by you and to perform a search of your credit file in order to verify your identity.
- Card network and payment scheme (Mastercard): to provide the Card and associated services to you.
- Service providers and other affiliated third parties: to enable us to provide our services to you.
- Law enforcement agencies, regulatory organisations, courts or other public authorities: to comply with law or regulation or in connection with proposed or actual legal proceedings or regulatory actions.

In limited situations where BANCIBO stores or transfers your personal information to business partners, service providers outside the EEA or the EU, robust procedures and safeguarding measures apply to secure, encrypt and maintain the integrity of the data. BANCIBO will complete continual reviews of the countries with sufficient adequacy decisions, such as the Privacy Shield in the US, and provisions for binding corporate rules, standard data protection clauses or approved codes of conduct. BANCIBO will further perform due diligence checks with all recipients of personal data to assess and verify that they have appropriate safeguards in place to protect the information. BANCIBO undertakes that it shall not transfer Personal Data outside of the EEA or the EU in full compliance with Article 46 of the GDPR, and shall not transfer data outside of the EEA or EU unless the following conditions are fulfilled:

- The data subject has enforceable rights and effective legal remedies;
- BANCIBO shall comply with its obligations under the Data Protection Legislation by providing an adequate level of protection to any Personal Data that is transferred (or, if it is not so bound, uses its best endeavours to assist the Customer in meeting its obligations);
- BANCIBO complies with any reasonable instructions notified to it in advance with respect to the processing of the Personal Data; and
- Upon written direction shall delete or return Personal Data (and any copies of it) unless BANCIBO is required by Law to retain the Personal Data.

Where BANCIBO is required to transfer Personal Data to the United States of America, BANCIBO shall only send such Personal Data to third-party sub-contractors that meet the minimum requirements contained under the Privacy Shield, or in the standard contractual clauses for the transfer of personal data to processors established in third countries under Directive 95/46/EC of the European Parliament.

In the event that the Privacy Shield is repealed at any future date, for whatever reason, BANCIBO shall only contract with third-party sub-contractors that satisfy the requirements contained in the standard contractual clauses for the transfer of personal data to processors established in third countries under Directive 95/46/EC of the European Parliament and of the Customer.

How we look after your personal information

The security of your personal data is important to us. We are committed to protecting the information we collect. We have appropriate technical and organisational security measures in place to protect your personal information against unauthorised or unlawful use and against accidental loss, damage or destruction.
